Student Deliverables:

In the section below, the professor and student will identify the project or internship deliverables for the student to work 240 hours (over 1-2 consecutive semesters) and earn a successful performance review by the professor.

Feedback and Evaluation:

It is suggested that formative feedback should be given to the student at the semester mid-point meeting with the professor. Additional check-ins can be scheduled as agreed upon. The student and professor will complete the required evaluations at the end of the semester for the student to earn the 1-credit (IST 495) internship required for graduation. Appropriate evaluation links will be emailed to the student and professor near the end of the semester's.

At any point within the semester, if there are any issues or concerns, please contact Careers@ist.psu.edu.
